than in the slave States; this all men know from observation; what a little reflection would have enabled them, a priori, to have determined. Many of the more faithful and industrious slaves may be employed by their quondam masters, whilst the idle and vicious must suffer the consequences of their folly. Stealing will not increase, as some argue, but be diminished, for vigilance will be more active and punishment more certain and severe. Let candidates be started in all the counties in favor of a convention, and run again and again, till victory shall perch on the standard of the free. Whether emancipation be remote or immediate, regard must be had to the rights of owners, the habits of the old, and the general good feeling of the people. To those who cry out forever what shall be done with the freed slaves, it will occur that upon this plan, no more will be left among us than we shall absolutely need, for we have every reason to suppose that many of the opponents of the movement will leave us before its consummation, taking their slaves with them; and the state ought not to, if she could, at once deprive herself of the slave laborers now here.

Then let us, having no regard to the clamors of the ultras of the North or the South, move on unshaken in our purpose, to the glorious end. Shall sensible men be forever deluded by the silly cry of 'abolitionists,' is this becoming not only ridiculous, but contemptible? Can you not see that many base demagogues have been crying out wolf whilst they were playing their traitors to their party and the country for personal elevation? Is it not time that some sense of returning justice should revive in your bosoms, and that you should cease to denounce those who in defeat do not forget their integrity, and who, though fallen, do not despair of the Republic.

Washington, Jefferson and Madison, and the great founders of the Republic are my standard bearers; Liberty and Union is my motto. Never yet has a Kentuckian deserted his country's standard, and fled the field. Shall I be the first to prove recreant to the sentiment which should ever be uppermost in the bosoms of the gallant and the free, when danger, no matter whether of the sword, or more damning despotism, threatens his native land.

—Think through whom
The life blood tracks its parent lake,
And then strike home!

I have given my slaves freedom for the public good. Is more needed?—Tax me to the verge of sustenance and life, and make my country free! I call upon all Kentucky to speak out upon this subject; let each man come to the press in his own name; let us hear others—hear all. Trust not to those who in private whisper approval in your ear, but denounce the open advocates of the same admissions.

I do not profess to be infallible; if I am wrong, show me the right, no man will do more, to suffer for conciliation. I listen to advice, I implore counsel; but neither denunciation, nor persecution, shall silence me; and so far as the voice of one individual makes up the omnipotence of public will, I say, Kentucky shall be free. Let no man be startled; a few years ago most men looked upon slavery as a matter of course; a thing of necessity, which was to live for centuries. Now, few are so hardy as to deny that some 20 or 30 years will witness its extinction.

The time is, in my judgment, yet nearer at hand. A space of three counties deep, lying along the Ohio river contains a decided majority of the people of the State, as well as the greater part of the soil. How long before slaves there will be, from obvious causes utterly useless? Soon, very soon will they find themselves bearing all the evils of slavery, without any, the least remuneration. Does any man believe that they will tamely submit to this intolerable grievance? If slavery does not tumble down of itself, they will vote it down, or they will have the power, and it will be their interest to do so. The rich interior counties of the State have the least need of slave labor of any portion of the globe.—The mountains are ruined by the decreasing population of the lowlands, and the inability to consume their products where slaves abound. The Green River country should remember if Pandora's box was opened again upon mankind, two great curses and forerunners of poverty and ruin, then slaves and tobacco, could not be found! Kentucky, be worthy of your past fame—be heroes once more. God has not designed this most favored land to be occupied by an inferior race. Italian skies mantle over us, and more than Sicilian luxuriance is spread beneath our feet. Give us free labor, and we shall indeed become 'the garden of the world.' But what if not? Man was not created only for the eating of Indian meal; the mind—the soul must be fed, as well as the body. The same spirit which led us to the battle field, gloriously to illustrate the national name, yet lives in the hearts of our people; they feel their false position; their impotency of future accomplishment. This weight must be removed. Kentucky must be free.

LEXINGTON, KY., Jan. 1845.

ART REPLY.—Judge Warren, of New Bedford, at the New England Society's dinner, in New York, in reply to Mr. McDuffie's toast, about the "unnatural aristocracy" of New England, exclaimed: "Yes! it is an unnatural aristocracy: an aristocracy that, instead of being rocked in a cradle, was cradled on a rock!"

Large Footprints.—Mr. Dexter Marsh of this town, while exploring for fossil remains near South Hadley Falls, a short time since, found several large bird tracks, embedded in the solid rock, two or three of which he succeeded in splitting off from the ledge. The tracks were about four feet apart, and half a yard in length, and one which he has examined will hold two quarts of water. The bird which made these tracks must have been larger than the largest of our domestic fowls.—Greenfield Courier.

MOUNT CAESAR SEMINARY, & Swanzy Academy.

THE SPRING TERM of this Institution will commence on Wednesday, the 5th day of March next, to continue eleven weeks. The Institution will be under the superintendence of Messrs. H. A. Pratt, and F. R. Kendall, Jr., associate Principals. The French Department, will be conducted by Miss Augusta Field, formerly Teacher in one of the Public Schools in Boston—a Lady of an accomplished Education, and who sustains a high reputation as a teacher.—Also, Miss Maria Field, of the same place, a natural, and finished Musician, and experienced Teacher, is employed as Instructor in Music. Mr. J. W. Knight, Teacher of Penmanship. The reputation sustained by the Principals, as thorough Scholars, and their former standing, as Teachers, as also their Assistants, render the Trustees confident that the Institution will be in able, and efficient hands.

There is a new, and well selected apparatus connected with the Institution, sufficiently extensive to illustrate the important principles of Philosophy, Chemistry, and Astronomy.—Also, Electricity, and Galvanism; in connection with which, Lectures will be delivered before the School. Instruction will be given in Practical Surveying, Measurement of Heights and Distances, &c. The Classical Department, will receive a prominent share of attention, and every facility will be offered to young men, fitting for College, to secure a thorough, preparatory course. In fine, no exertions will be spared by the Teachers, to secure to the students, a thorough and rapid progress in the various branches pursued, aiming at all times, at an ample development, and correct discipline of the intellectual powers, by which, alone, the acquisition of knowledge is rendered permanent. Retired from the bustle and din of the business world—distant from all that would lead the youthful mind astray from the diligent pursuit of knowledge, or the path of virtue—here, the student may give himself up wholly, to the spirit of improvement, and prepare for future usefulness—and it is confidently hoped, that the public will continue to extend that liberal share of patronage to this Institution, which it has thus far received.

MOAT'S MORISON PILLS.

THE GENUINE HYGIENIC MEDICINE.
Accurately prepared by H. Shephard Moat, of New York, from the original recipe used for many years by his late father, Mr. Thomas Moat, Vice President of the British College of Health.

Twenty years successful administration of these celebrated medicines in Europe, and more than ten years in the United States, have established their high reputation. Thousands of both sexes, who have been restored to health—the numerous sufferers rescued from premature death—and volumes of certified cases of cure, embracing every disease in the long catalogue of human misery; must convince the most incredulous, of their superiority and the truth of the Hygienic theory, resulting from scientific research and experience; namely, that "Man is subject to only one real disease—impurity of the blood."

The medicines being composed entirely of Herbs or Vegetable matter, purify the blood, and carry off the corrupt humors of the body, in a manner so simple as to give every day, ease and pleasure.

"Man will be born to days of bliss, compared to what he has hitherto been his lot, weighed down as he has been by disease, infirmities, and sufferings, which no earthly power knew how to alleviate, until this discovery, was presented to the world. The weak, the feeble, the infirm, the nervous, the delicate, are in a few days strengthened by their operation and the most obstinate complaints are removed by perseverance without the expense of a Physician. Adapted to all circumstances and situations, they are the best Medicines ever invented for families, or to take to Sea; preventing surgery and cutaneous, requiring no change of diet, particular regimen, or care against taking cold.

The Hygienic Medicines, first introduced into this country by H. S. Moat, in 1830, have for the last three years been prepared by him, and the increasing sale attests their intrinsic merit; they comprise two sorts of Pills, Nos. 1 and 2 in single boxes of each at 25 or 50 cents; and packets containing both sorts, at $1, 2, or 3. The Vegetable cleansing Powders, in large boxes at 37½ cts. with printed directions. Each packet has a fac simile of the signature of H. Shephard Moat, and to prevent counterfeits, are signed with a pen by the district Agent and Sub-Agent, on a label of yellow paper.

None are genuine unless they have those signatures and are obtained from Sub-Agents who can produce their written appointments from the District Agent, and whose names are advertised in their respective districts.

CONSUMPTION & LIVER COMPLAINT.

Balsam of Liverwort,

FROM 375 Bowery, New York, for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Catarrhs, Asthma, Soreness of the chest, pain in the side and breast, raising of blood, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, and all those affections of the throat and lungs, which are a source of so much suffering, and, unarrested, so often terminate in Consumption—this remedy is highly and justly distinguished. It is purely vegetable, mild and gentle in its effects upon the system, and can be taken in the most delicate cases with safety as well as utility. Physicians aware of its medicinal properties and witnessing its effects even in extreme, and in some instances, apparently almost hopeless cases, often prescribe it in their practice, both as a palliative and a remedy, and with the Medical Faculty generally it has met with great approbation.

CONSUMPTION.—The following remarks were taken from a late number of the Medical Magazine. The surprising effect produced by the genuine Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, made at 375 Bowery, in Consumption cases, cannot fail exciting a deep and thrilling interest throughout the world. We have so long believed this disease (Consumption) incurable, that it is difficult to credit our senses when we see persons evidently consumptive, restored to health. Yet it is a fact of daily occurrence.

CONSUMPTION AND RAISING OF BLOOD CURED.

I hereby certify that last August, I was attacked with a violent and profuse hemorrhage from the lungs, severe cough, with the expectoration of much mucus, pain in the head, soreness in the chest, and other distressing symptoms. I bought a bottle of Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, from 375 Bowery, which, under the blessing of Providence, gave me immediate relief. Its effect has been such in my case that I cannot praise it too highly.

BRATTLEBORO TAILORING

and Ready Made Clothing

ESTABLISHMENT,

OVER THE POST OFFICE.

THE subscriber, greatly encouraged by the very liberal patronage which he has received from a discerning public, and deeply anxious to deserve, secure and enlarge that patronage, has added a new feature to his establishment, which he is confident will make it the EMPORIUM OF FASHION.
He has just returned from Boston with a very choice selection of consisting of Over Coats, Dress and Frock Coats, Vests and Pantaloon, which he offers to his friends and the public cheap for Cash. These garments have been selected by himself from the best Tailoring establishments, with great care, and with strict reference to the quality of material, style of making, the latest fashion, and the wants and taste of this community. They were purchased for CASH, at the lowest prices, and will be sold at a very small advance. No one can fail to be pleased with his garments and their price, and a full share of the public patronage is undoubtedly expected.

Ready Made Clothing,

He will also continue assiduously to devote himself to the

of Gentlemen's Clothing in all its varieties, in the most perfect and fashionable manner; and with all due deference to his brethren of the Shears and the Thimble, he at once solicits and defies competition.

All garments, the making of which shall be entrusted to him, shall be thoroughly made in the best and most fashionable style, and with neatness and despatch.

He can assure the fastidious, that garments made by him have the true City touch, fit and finish; and he can refer the doubting and enquiring, to the best dressed young men in town, for ample proof.

Few men are entirely unconscious how greatly the ease, quiet, self-complacency and true happiness of the 'inner man' depend upon the apparel in which the 'outer man' is habited; and one of the cheapest and surest sources of enjoyment is, in having the mortal frame well clad in fitting and finished garments. Without this, few men can feel sufficiently at ease in good society, especially in the society of ladies, to fully develop their mental resources, or the riches of their affections.

Clothing made at Hart's, has the magic power to put the wearer entirely at ease. It robs youth of its embarrassments, and diffidence of its awkwardness.

Let those who doubt, call, examine, and above all try, and their doubts will dissolve like icicles at sunny noon.

ALL GARMENTS WARRANTED TO FIT.

PRICES SHALL ALSO FIT.

TRIMMINGS.

He has also just received from Boston a very choice and full stock of Trimmings, suited to every variety of garment, which will be supplied to his customers upon the most reasonable terms, and which may be depended upon as the very best of their kind.

CUTTING.

Mr. HART has paid particular attention to the science of CUTTING, and is prepared upon the shortest notice to cut every variety of garments, in a manner that cannot fail to give entire satisfaction.

Most kinds of produce received in exchange for work. Citizens from the neighboring towns, are particularly invited to call and be satisfied of the truth of this advertisement.
